SETTING UP AN AUTO BUY/SELL

The Automatic Buy/Sell feature allows you to buy more, or sell all or some of a folio on a periodic basis as window trades. You specify the amount of cash you want to invest, or receive from a sale of, a folio. Each Automatic Buy/Sell order is generated only once per month, but you can set up as many Automatic Buy/Sell orders as you want for each folio.

Recurring automatic buy/sell trades at Folio Investing are created at the folio level. All securities you wish to automatically buy should be in their own folio; this can be done by using the Transfer Within Account feature found in your Account Quick Links. After you have moved the securities to their own folio, go to Folio Quick Links for the newly established folio and select Weights to set target weights. These target weights will be used by the automatic purchase to divide your investment between the securities in the folio.

In the following example, a $300 automatic buy would purchase $100 of each security:
